Origin and Evolution of the Music Teacher Socialization ASPA

John W. Scheib, Ball State University

Origin: 2005 SMTE Symposium

Special/Strategic Action Groups (SAGs)

- Plan future research and other activity related to current critical issues in music teacher education.
- Promote coordinated and sustained efforts to improve music teacher education and align research on preservice and inservice teachers.
- 11 SAGs formed

“Preservice Teacher” SAG

- To address the undergraduate student’s transformation from student to teacher through program components and experiences
- Guiding Questions
  - How does a student create a professional identity as a musician educator?
  - How does it emerge?
  - What does it look like?
  - When does it take place?
  - How do music teacher educators facilitate the creation of the candidate’s professional identity?
  - What enables this transition?
  - What effects do the lack of a transition to a professional identity have on attrition during a teacher preparation program?

  - To promote activities in research, the identification and dissemination of best practices, and policy analysis on behalf on music teacher education;
  - To sustain these activities in order to build a more coherent and systematic base of knowledge in music teacher education (convening on an annual basis at the SMTE Symposia in odd-numbered years and during the MENC Biennial Conference in even-numbered years); and
  - To produce substantive and useful work that can be disseminated within SMTE and to broader audiences.

“Music Teacher Socialization in the Preservice Years” ASPA

  - ✓ Engage in research exploring these issues / addressing these problems [follow agenda].
  - ✓ Provide further best/effective practice models based on findings from this research.
  - ✓ Provide sessions at SMTE 2009 and MENC 2010 on these best/effective practice ideas.
