Tipping Over: Selected Literature on Music Teacher Education Redesign, v. 2

Peter R. Webster (pwbsster@northwestern.edu)
Mark Campbell (campbemr@potsdam.edu)

Area of Strategic Planning and Action (ASPA) subgroup on Critical Examination of the Curriculum for the Anaheim MENC Convention
2010 Biennial Music Educators National Conference
Anaheim, CA  March 26, 2010

I. Preliminary

• Inspired by the writings of Kratus (2007) and Gladwell (2000)
• 2009 Greensboro SMTE meeting and the ASPA for Critical Examination of Curriculum
• Professional Development (Barrett, 2006; Neel, 2007)
• Difficult to predict what culture and education will be like in the next 5 years, let alone in 2076 when students who enter school next fall will retire (Robinson, 2001)
• Mayday Group (www.maydaygroup.org), Action, Criticism, and Theory for Music Education e-journal

II. General Literature

• Schulman (1987), different kinds of learning: Content, General Pedagogical, Curriculum, Knowledge of Learner, Pedagogical Content Knowledge); Millican, 2008; Haston and Leon-Guererro, 2008)
• Gardner, 1995; Goodlad, 1991
• Standards Movements and Accreditation (NASM, NCATE, 21st Century Skills, National Standards in Music)
• INTASC (1992)

III. Bodies of Literature (representative sources)

A. Big Ideas

• Philosophical positions (Elliott, 1995; Jorgensen, 2003; Reimer, 2003)
• Historical roots (Mark, 1996) (e.g. CMP (Ester, 1997), Manhattanville)
• Constructivism (Morford, 2000; Wiggins, 2001; Webster (in press))
• Critical Pedagogy (Abrahams, 2005)
• Belief Systems (Thompson, 2007)

• Democracy and Social Justice (Delorenzo, 2003; Woodford, 2005; Allsup, 2007)
• Cultural Awareness (Benham, 2003; Koza, 2008; Schmidt, 2007; Hunt, 2009)
• Multicultural Music (Campbell, 1994; Emmanuel, 2003; Miralis, 2006)
B. Curriculum Focus

- Integrated Curriculum (Barrett, McCoy, Veblen, 1997; Barry & Schons, 2004; Robinson, 2010)
- Diversity of Musical Style (Rodriguez, 2004; Colley, 2009)
- Exceptionality (VanWeelden, 2005)
- Creativity and Creative Thinking (Webster, 1990; Kratus, 1990; Wiggins, 2001)

C. Ways and Means

- Technology Usage (Reese, 1999; Bauer & Daugherty, 2001; Greher, 2006)
- Mentoring (Campbell, 1999; Campbell & Brummett, 2007)
- Partnerships (Kerchner, 1998; Morin, 2000; Townsend, 2000; Henry, 2001; Conkling & Henry, 2002; Robbins & Stein, 2005; Conkling, 2007; Burton & Reynolds, 2009)
- Collaborations (DeLorenzo, 1990; Gregory, 1995; Luce, 2001; Thornton, Murphy, & Hamilton, 2004; Bergee, 2006)
- Reflection (Upitis, 1999; Barrett, 2002; Burton, 2004; Hourigan, 2006; Bergee, 2006; Killian & Dye, 2009; Chaffin & Manfredo, 2010)
- Case Study (Conway, 1999; Lind, 2001; Abrahams & Head, 2005)
- Research/Assessment Understanding (Conway, 2000, 2003; Burton, 2004; Barrett, 2006b; Strand, 2006)

IV. Models

- Duerksen, 1991
- Hickey and Rees, 2002 [(Northwestern Seminar) (http://faculty-web-at.northwestern.edu/music/hickey/CMSInstitute/)]
- Kimpton, 2005
- Greher & Tobin, 2006
- Wiggins, 2007
- Kaschub, Michele; University of Southern Maine (kaschub@usm.maine.edu) (personal communication.)

V. Major Themes and Driving Forces

- Globalization and Multicultural Context
- Technological Innovation
- Concerns for Tolerance and Respect for Differing Personal, Cultural, and Social Constructions
- Interest in Partnerships
- Collaborative Strategies
- Broadening of Musical Styles
- Techniques for Encouraging Student-Centered Learning
References

